
Mikhailov Konstantin

Born in 1959.
Till I was 18 year old I lived in Siberia.
Then served in the Army.
In 1982 I entered Ryazan Art College
after which I became a free independent Artist.
I made it clear to myself that the nature itself as an image is far better than its image on the canvas.
And the Creator of nature is an unrivaled Artist.

In 2000 I was ordained to become a priest of Russian Orthodox Church.

In 2013 with the help from friends I first time in my life saw the sea.
I defined to myself that the most important in life is the life itself,
so, whatever favorite activity you do,
it will be full of life.
In August of 2013 I took the paint brush again.

In the 90ies I sold a lot of works which fed me well.
I did nor sign my works, I simply did not care.
Sometimes I saw my works in various catalogues.

I do not want to make frame and stretch the canvas.
During the work, I need someone to squeeze out the paint for me
so as not to lose the impulse of energy.
And in general, to do everything for me but painting.

There are some conceptual ideas which need financing,
I am waiting for better times to fulfill them.

I love my Motherland and wish it prosperity.

I think that a person through his dignified and descent life should define his belonging to his kindred.
